No payment will be paid for stock of any kind kept or fed off grounds unless accompanied by a written permit from the Superintendent of that department.

All stock and produce must be ready to be judged Thursday, September 17, 2020, at 9:00 A.M.

JUDGING

When called upon, exhibitors are expected to give a verbal or written statement concerning their contributions.

When there is no competition, the exhibitors may receive such awards as the judges may determine, but shall not receive premiums unless stock or articles are meritorious.

When animals or articles are not deemed worthy of a premium, the judges shall in all cases reject them and they will adhere strictly to this rule.

Exhibitors of livestock need to be prepared to show registry and health papers.

In examining stock, reference will be made to symmetry, size and docility, and general characteristics of good breeding which not only exhibits the skills of the breeders but greatly enhances the value of the stock produced on the farm.

See Code of Conduct on entry form.

The Tunbridge World's Fair is the first nationally to give an award for the best presentation of rare breeds and overall conservation effort. Qualifying is any breed rated by the Livestock Conservancy as a priority for conservation. The Fair recognizes the importance of how crucial these now-rare breeds were to the early settlers of Vermont and that their genetics are being lost at an alarming rate. Many of these breeds are dual or even triple purpose, a manageable size and temperament for small farms.

It is these rare breeds that still carry the instinctive ability to thrive, reproduce and prosper in a natural environment, unlike some of the "superior" animals of today.

 - 1 cup (227g) milk • 1/4 cup (50g) vegetable oil or 4 tablespoons (57g) melted butter (optional)*
 - 2 large eggs
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, optional • sparkling white sugar, optional; for topping *See "tips," below Instructions
1. Preheat your oven to 425°F. Lightly grease the cups of a standard 12-cup muffin pan. Or line the cups with papers, and grease the papers.
 2. Blend together the dry ingredients.
 3. Beat the liquid ingredients together — milk, oil or butter, eggs, and vanilla — until light.
 4. Pour the wet ingredients into the dry ingredients. Take a fork or wire whisk and blend the two briefly — about 20 seconds should do it. The secret to light and tender muffins lies in blending together the liquid and dry ingredients gently. It's OK to leave some lumps that look as if they want more stirring; they really don't. So, no matter how hard it is, resist the impulse.
 5. Fill the cups of the muffin pan two-thirds to three-quarters full. Sprinkle with sparkling white sugar, if desired.
 6. Bake the muffins for 15 to 20 minutes, or until a toothpick inserted into the middle of one of the center muffins comes out clean. Remove them from the oven, and as soon as you can handle them turn them out of the pan onto a rack to cool.

Tips from our Bakers

If you leave the oil out, you can reduce the calories in your muffins by about 30%; the flavor will still be excellent, but muffins won't be quite as tender, and won't keep as well should you happen to have any left over. • To make oatmeal muffins: If you like the old-fashioned taste of oats, you'll love this easy variation. Instead of using 2 cups of flour, use 1 cup rolled oats and 1 1/4 cups flour. If you like a heartier muffin, substitute brown sugar for granulated. These muffins don't rise as high as the basic muffins, but they certainly taste wonderful! • To make berry or fruit muffins: Add 1 1/2 cups of berries to the recipe (or finely chopped, well-drained fresh fruit: peaches, apples, etc.; or chopped dried fruit; or Jammy Bits, sweet, soft little morsels of fruit purée). To make sure berries or fruit stay evenly distributed throughout the batter, add to the dry ingredients and mix until coated before adding the liquid ingredients. This prevents them from sinking once the liquids are blended in.
